Environmental Policy

Commitment

Steward recognizes environmental management as one of our highest corporate priorities. We apply pollution prevention principals and address environmental implications in all of our decisions, activities, and expenditures. We will limit the use or introduction of those substances restricted by EU Directive 2002/95/EC (more commonly known as RoHS)

Compliance

Steward will continue to meet all applicable local, state, federal and international environmental requirements. When our top management team deems it in the best interest of the environment and feasible for our company we will exceed these legal environmental requirements through voluntary policy commitments in the management of our operations.

Continuous Improvement

Steward will audit our environmental management system to ensure continuing suitability, adequacy, and effectiveness. This will be accomplished by continuously reviewing and analyzing data provided by various constituencies, including but not limited to, suggestions by employees and/or outside customers, and through input from our Environmental department. We will adopt and adapt corporate policies, programs, and practices as necessary to comply with legal requirements, consumer needs, and community expectations.

We will strive toward continuous reduction of generated waste, emissions, energy consumption, and the use of those substances restricted by EU Directive 2002-95/EC. We will also strive to increase our rate of reuse, recycling, and recovery of materials whenever possible.

Employee Education

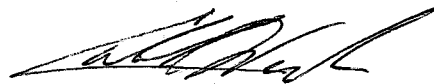

Protection of the environment is the responsibility of every employee at Steward. We will develop programs and provide training to raise the level of environmental awareness at all levels of employment. Employees will perform their job duties with minimal environmental impacts, and in compliance with all applicable regulations and internal policies.

Products and Services

Where technically and economically viable, Steward will develop and provide products that have limited environmental impacts, from their manufacture through their end-life. We will manufacture products that are safe in their intended use, and can be recycled, or disposed of safely.

Contractors and Suppliers

In order to fully reduce our impact to the environment, Steward will associate ourselves with contractors and suppliers who are also dedicated to making environmental issues an integral part of their business activities. We will encourage, and where appropriate, require improvements in their practices to make them consistent with our Environmental Management Program.
